Equality and Diversity Policy

Date reviewed: 15.08.2019

Next review: 15.08.2021

Introduction

The Positive Herd Project is committed to the principle of equality of opportunity and diversity and recognises that employees, volunteers, members or service users should not experience discrimination on any grounds.

To promote equality and diversity The Positive Herd Project will:

- Aim to provide an environment where all employees, volunteers, members and service users at all levels are valued and respected and where discrimination and harassment are not tolerated.
- Encourage, value and manage diversity and to promote equality of opportunity in all areas of its work and structure, and will take positive action in the areas of employment and volunteering, representation, membership and service provision.
- Recognise that many people in our society experience discrimination. It is our policy that no person or group of people should suffer oppression or lack of opportunity because of their gender, race, nationality, disability, sexuality, age, HIV status, class, geographical location, trades union activity, marital status, political activity or religious activity.
- Believe that all forms of discrimination are unacceptable, regardless of whether there was any intention to discriminate or not.
- Recognise that The Equality Act 2010 identifies people who have an attribute defined as a 'protected characteristic' and prohibits discrimination against them by reason of that attribute.

The characteristics that are protected by the Act are:

- Disability
- Age
- Gender reassignment
- Marriage and civil partnership
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Race
- Religion or belief
- Sex (gender)
- Sexual orientation

Definitions

'Equality' means understanding and seeking to remove the different barriers to equal opportunities for different groups of people.

'Discrimination' is acting unfairly against a group or individual through actions such as exclusion, verbal comment, denigration, harassment, victimisation, a failure to appreciate needs or the assumption of such needs without consultation.

The term 'disability' applies to a person who has a physical or mental impairment that has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to carry out their normal day-to-day activities.

'Race' includes ethnic or national origins, colour or nationality.

The Equality Act 2010 is the statute replacing previous anti-discrimination laws. It applies to all organisations that provide a service to the public, sell goods or provide facilities, irrespective of whether they charge for them.

Implementation

It is the responsibility of The Positive Herd Project to implement this policy, and to review it annually.

The Positive Herd Project will ensure that the users of this policy are made aware of its contents and responsibilities by presenting it in a suitable form, offering an accessible copy where appropriate.

Employees, volunteers, board members and service users of the Positive Herd share responsibility in ensuring that this policy is effective in promoting equal opportunities and challenging discrimination. If suspected discriminatory acts or practices, or cases of bullying or harassment should occur, all who are associated with the organisation have a duty to bring it to the attention of a staff member or a member of the management committee.

All trainers, facilitators and consultants contracted to work will be required to support our Equality and Diversity policy.

Copies of this policy will be freely available to staff, volunteers, members and any other interested parties. All volunteers and employees will be made aware of this policy during induction training.

The Positive Herd Project will:

- Develop an organisational culture that positively values diversity
- Achieve, wherever possible, a membership, committee membership and workforce that broadly reflects the local community in which we operate and is representative of all sections of society
- Ensure that individuals are treated fairly in all aspects of their employment.
- Make it clear that intimidation, harassment and bullying will not be tolerated and may lead to disciplinary action
- Ensure that all our services are provided in a way which promotes awareness of the rights and needs of the people who face discrimination and enables all people to have access to them
- Encourage the development of skills and knowledge through training
- Challenge any discrimination or oppressive behaviour from and towards any members, volunteers, clients or agencies we work with
- Work in a way that recognises peoples' individual needs
- Regularly evaluate this policy and seek feedback from those who are affected by it
